

JILTED WHEN FATHER REFUSED DOWRY, SHE JUMPED TO HER DEATH

Leaps From Third-Story Window; Brooded Over Own and Mother's Woes.

Miss Dora Goldsman, thirty years old, leaped from the window of her room on the third floor at No. 156 East-ern Parkway, East New York, and killed herself, about dawn today. She had been brooding over her own broken engagement to marry and a suit for separation which her mother has pending against her father.

Miss Goldsman and her mother rented two rooms from Mrs. Silverman at the Eastern Parkway address only a few days ago. The mother slept in one room and the daughter in another. Yesterday Mrs. Goldsman got a letter from her lawyer in New York. The letter stated that an answer had been filed in her separation suit, denying all her allegations and alleging that Mrs. Goldsman's mind was impaired.

Last night Max Silverman, son of Miss Goldsman's landlady, with his wife was talking with the mother and daughter. Miss Goldsman seemed much depressed.

"She told us," Max Silverman said, "that her daughter was to have been married in January, and that her father had promised to give her and her husband $5,000. Just before the marriage was to have taken place, however, he refused to give the money and the engagement was broken. Miss Goldsman, her mother said, was sent to a sanitarium for a time, suffering from a nervous breakdown. But she was not insane."

About 1:30 o'clock this morning Silverman was awakened by Mrs. Goldsman's screams. He ran into her room and she cried: "My daughter has gone—her bed is empty."

The front window was open and Silverman looked out. He saw Miss Goldsman's body on the sidewalk below. An ambulance was summoned from St. Mary's Hospital, and Dr. Courtney, who came in, said Miss Goldsman had been killed instantly by her plunge.

ERRAND BOY ROBBED OF $87.
Held Up in Hallway, Another Lad
Keeps Catch Supposed Thief.

In Essex Market Court Chief Magistrate McAdoo this morning held Peter Pierson, nineteen years old, in $1,000 for examination to-morrow on the charge of holding up and robbing an errand boy in the hallway of No. 107 Eldridge street late yesterday afternoon.

The victim of the attack was Samuel Isaac, fifteen years old, of No. 144 Forsyth street, employed by S. Gilburd, a clothing manufacturer of No. 107 Eldridge street. Just after the lad had left his employer's office he was attacked in the hallway by two men and $87.47 taken from him. The men started to run. One got away and the other was held up by a policeman. The police were called and Pierson arrested. Pierson said he was an engineer and lived at No. 127 Third avenue.
